

WG SECURITY PRODUCTS INC.

Securing Today for a Profitable Tomorrow

Headquartered in San Jose, California, WG Security Products Inc. has established itself as a leading designer and developer of loss prevention solutions with products ranging from Electronic Article Surveillance (EAS) systems and tags to complete video integration systems. The company's growth is reflective of our ability to hear the voice of our customers and translate their needs into revolutionary security products that deliver value to our customers.

EAS Systems

When it comes to EAS, no other company can beat WG in the technology game. Not only are we an industry leader in 58 kHz pedestals and tags, our state-of-the-art advances make our products must-haves for retailers looking for complete security and protection. Whether it's Ad Guard, with unique advertising space, or our concealed EAS systems, Floor Guard and Sky Guard, WG proves that we are setting the bar in the EAS revolution.

Tags

Our wide selection of hard tags and labels instantly make us a force in the EAS industry. However we strive to be the best and because of that desire, we are constantly looking to improve the traditional paradigm of tagging. Enter "Wave," our patented hard tags with one-of-a-kind 4-alarm technology. Perfect for the retailer with high-end merchandise, Wave tags represent the pinnacle of tagging solutions. With Wave, you can rest assured that your merchandise is safe and secure.

Video

No security or loss prevention system is complete without a video surveillance set-up and WG is no stranger to video. We are a world leader in video integration. Whatever you need, WG has the video solution for you; from analog to digital, low-end to fully integrated, remote video management and streaming video. Our expertise allows us to provide a consultative approach to your business. We can develop a video system tailored specifically to your needs and desires from the ground up.

Our customers are our business; without them, we do not exist. We will deliver solutions that solve the loss prevention challenges of today while being considerate of the environment and customer investments made in the past. We will always strive for excellence, exceeding all customer expectations. Contact us to discover how WG secures your today for a profitable tomorrow.
